IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF KING

AMAZON.COM, INC., a Delaware corporation,

Plaintiff,

v.

JOHN DOES 1-1114,

Defendants.

No. ~~15-2-25555-0~~
~~08579~~

COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES
AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, Amazon.com, Inc. (“Amazon”) brings this action against defendants
JOHN DOES 1-1114 for injunctive relief and damages as follows.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In April 2015, Amazon sued several websites that sold fake reviews of products on Amazon.com. See Amazon.com, Inc. v. Gentile, King County Case No. 15-2-08579-4 SEA (filed April 8, 2015). Most of those sites have since closed and Amazon has identified and taken action against sellers who used those sites to obtain fake reviews.
Amazon is continuing those efforts with this lawsuit against the individuals who provide those fake reviews.

1 2. Each day, millions of consumers use Amazon’s websites to assist with their
2 purchasing decisions. In order to make those decisions more informed, Amazon publishes
3 customer reviews of products and services available on Amazon.com. Amazon pioneered
4 customer reviews 20 years ago and is now home to hundreds of millions of unique
5 reviews. Reviews provide a forum for sharing authentic feedback about products and 6 services – positive or negative. Amazon does not remove reviews because they are 7 critical; Amazon believes all helpful information can inform its customers’ buying
8 decisions. As long as they abide by Amazon’s Customer Review Guidelines, Amazon’s
9 customers can review and rate products or services available on Amazon’s websites.
10 Honest and unbiased reviews allow customers to trust that they can shop with confidence
11 on Amazon.com; reviews also help fulfill Amazon’s mission to be Earth’s most customer-12 centric company. In short, Amazon takes the credibility of its customer reviews very 13 seriously.

14 3. Unfortunately, a very small minority of sellers and manufacturers
15 sometimes tries to gain unfair competitive advantages for their products on Amazon.com.
16 One such method is creating false, misleading, and inauthentic customer reviews. While 17 small in number, these reviews can significantly undermine the trust that consumers and 18 the vast majority of sellers and manufacturers place in Amazon, which in turn tarnishes
19 Amazon’s brand. Amazon strictly prohibits any attempt to manipulate customer reviews 20 and expressly prohibits compensated reviews. Nonetheless, an unhealthy ecosystem has 21 developed outside of Amazon to supply reviews in exchange for payment.

22 4. Defendants are in the business of providing such fake reviews. Each of the 23 John Doe defendants in this action utilizes the website Fiverr.com (“Fiverr”) to sell
24 Amazon reviews. Fiverr is a global online marketplace offering tasks and services, 25 beginning at a cost of $5 per job performed, from which it gets its name. The site is

1 primarily used by freelancers who use Fiverr to offer services to customers worldwide.
2 Services offered on the site include writing, translation, graphic design, video editing and 3 programming. Each service offered is called a “Gig.” Fiverr’s Terms of Service prohibit 4 Gigs that violate a third party’s terms of service.

5 5. Each of the John Doe defendants has offered, and continues to offer, to 6 create Amazon reviews for $5 or more. Amazon has conducted an extensive investigation
7 of the defendants’ activities on Fiverr, including purchasing “reviews” for products and 8 communicating directly with some of the defendants. Most of the defendants promise
9 positive or 5-star reviews for Amazon sellers’ products. Indeed, many encourage the 10 Amazon seller to create the text for their own review. For example, Fiverr seller “bess98”
11 in her “I will do, Amazon, Reviews, Amazon, Reviews, for $5” Gig promises to post
12 “awesome review on your amazon product.” Below is a screenshot of bess98’s Amazon
13 review Gig overview, which is typical of the offers on Fiverr to create inauthentic
14 Amazon reviews:

23 6. The secret of bess98’s “awesome reviews” is simple: “you have to provide 24 me the review text.” Amazon confirmed this approach when its investigator
25 communicated with bess98:

2 7. Moreover, bess98 offered to place reviews on Amazon using multiple 3 accounts and IP addresses, thus implying to purchasers she has methods which she 4 believes can evade Amazon's review controls.

5 8. Similarly, Fiverr seller "Verifiedboss" advertises an Amazon Review Gig
6 and includes an altered Amazon logo to highlight the Gig:

13
15
16
17 9. Verifiedboss "guarantees" that she can place reviews through 100 different
18 Amazon accounts. Verifiedboss also follows the same ghostwriting approach as bess98
19 and encourages sellers to write their own reviews, effectively renting her Amazon
20 accounts for $5 a review:

10. Similarly, Fiverr seller “rerina” offers to provide up to nine “Five Stars” Amazon reviews for $5 each, reminding the purchaser: “You know the your [sic] product better than me. So please provide your product review, it will be better.” As with many of the other Fiverr sellers, Rerina offers to place a “Verified Review” in which Amazon verifies that the reviewer has purchased the item through Amazon, so long as Rerina does not have to actually purchase the product:

Verified Reviews: If you would like a verified amazon review, please provide me with a promo code so I can purchase the product for free.

Remainder: You know the your product better than me. So Please provide your product review, it will be better.

1 11. In at least one instance, the seller of a “Verified Review” (i.e., an “Amazon
2 Verified Purchase”) was willing to receive an empty envelope, not the product itself,
3 simply to create a shipping record in an attempt to deceive Amazon and its customers.

4 12. Defendants are misleading Amazon’s customers and tarnishing Amazon’s
5 brand for their own profit and the profit of a handful of dishonest sellers and 6 manufacturers. Amazon is bringing this action to protect its customers from this 7 misconduct, by stopping defendants and uprooting the ecosystem in which they 8 participate. Although Amazon has successfully requested removal of similar listings from 9 Fiverr in the past, the removal of individual listings does not address the root cause of the 10 issue or serve as a sufficient deterrent to the bad actors engaged in creating and purchasing 11 fraudulent product reviews. This action is the next step in a long-term effort to ensure 12 these providers of fraudulent reviews do not offer their illicit services through other 13 channels and to take enforcement action against the dishonest sellers and manufacturers 14 who use those services.

15 13. In this action, Amazon brings claims for breach of contract, other
16 violations of Washington common law, and violation of the Washington Consumer 17 Protection Act (RCW Ch. 19.86).

18 II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

19 14. This Court has personal jurisdiction over defendants, all of whom have 20 conducted business activities in and directed to Washington and are primary participants
21 in tortious acts in and directed to Washington.

22 15. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to RCW § 4.12.010 to .025 in that a 23 substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims pled herein occurred in 24 King County, Amazon seeks damages for personal injury or damage to personal property
25 in King County, and its causes of action arose in King County.

III. THE PARTIES

16. Amazon is a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Seattle, Washington. Amazon owns and operates the Amazon.com website, and equivalent international websites. Amazon has over two hundred and fifty million active customers.

17. Amazon is unaware of the true names and capacities of defendants sued herein as JOHN DOES 1-1114, and therefore sues these defendants by such fictitious names. Amazon will amend this complaint to allege their true names and capacities when ascertained. Amazon is informed and believes and therefore alleges that each of the fictitiously named defendants is responsible in some manner for the occurrences herein alleged, and that Amazon's injuries as herein alleged were proximately caused by such defendants.

18. Each of the John Doe defendants is a registered seller at Fiverr. The defendants' Fiverr account names are listed on Exhibit A.

IV. AMAZON'S PRODUCT REVIEW SYSTEM

19. As mentioned above, Amazon encourages its customers to review products and services available on its websites. Amazon publishes these reviews on the detail pages of the products and services. Consumers rely on this customer feedback to make informed purchasing decisions. Customers trust that these reviews will be honest, authentic and unbiased.

20. Each product review is comprised of the reviewer's textual comments and a "star rating" that ranges from 1 star to 5 stars. Amazon compiles these product reviews, calculates overall star ratings, and publishes those results alongside the advertised product for shoppers to see. An example of a product review for the Kindle Paperwhite follows:

Two reviews are highlighted. The "Most helpful positive review" is by J. Chambers, dated September 30, 2013, with a star rating of 5. It states: "This is the fifth e-ink Kindle reader that I've bought. My wife and I were early adopters of Kindle, and when we buy a new Kindle, the old one goes to the next niece or nephew in line. I loved the original Paperwhite, with its small size, touch screen, front-lighting, and virtual keyboard. The all-new Paperwhite is a definite step up, and for me, it was worth the move, but others will have to decide for themselves. If you read a lot, and you don't already have one of the newer e-ink Kindles, it's definitely worth upgrading to the Paperwhite. If you have the original Paperwhite, the upgrade is well worth considering. Although I've only had the new Paperwhite a few hours, I'm already glad I upgraded. Here's a summary of my initial impressions of the new Paperwhite." The "Most helpful critical review" is by D. Carlson, dated September 30, 2013, with a star rating of 3. It states: "This review is for the second generation Kindle Paperwhite. Like all Kindle e-readers before it, this is a great product. However, I am a bit disappointed as there is not a huge improvement over last year's model. For this review, I focused on features and enhancements exclusive to the new Paperwhite and tried to make comparisons to last year's model. Also, I found some things misrepresented or confusing in the advertising, so I will try to clear them up."

Below the reviews, there are filters for "Sort by" (Most helpful) and "Filter by" (All reviewers, All stars, All formats). A search bar is also present. On the right side, there are buttons for "Add to Cart" and "Add to Wish List". At the bottom right, there is a section for "Questions? Get fast answers from reviewers" with a search bar and a button to "Ask".

21. In order to review a product, an individual must be an Amazon customer and must have an Amazon account. As a result, each reviewer of a product has agreed to and is bound by the Conditions of Use of the Amazon site.

22. Amazon prohibits paid reviews, as clearly provided in its Customer Review Creation Guidelines that are part of its Conditions of Use:

Paid Reviews - We do not permit reviews or votes on the helpfulness of reviews that are posted in exchange for compensation of any kind, including payment (whether in the form of money or gift certificates), bonus content, entry to a contest or sweepstakes, discounts on future purchases, extra product, or other gifts.

23. Amazon takes the integrity of its customer reviews very seriously. Amazon has developed sophisticated technologies and protocols to detect and remove such reviews from its websites. Amazon scours its site for fake reviews, removes them when it finds them, and suspends sellers that post or purchase fake reviews.

VI. DEFENDANTS' ILLEGAL ACTS

24. At a time unknown to Amazon, each of the defendants enrolled at Fiverr and began offering to write Amazon reviews for $5 or more. Amazon has conducted an extensive investigation of the defendants' activities on Fiverr, including purchasing "reviews" for products and communicating directly with some of the defendants.

25. Although their advertisements vary in some respects, all defendants claim that they will provide reviews of products or Kindle books for any interested Amazon seller. Judging by comments posted on Fiverr by satisfied purchasers, the defendants have successfully sold these services and completed their assigned work.

26. In many cases, the reviews posted are entirely fake, and the "reviewer" has no knowledge whatsoever of the product or book being reviewed. Indeed, many defendants specifically request text for the review, and some flatly refuse to create a review unless text is provided. Most defendants promise glowing reviews of products or books they have never seen, assuring "high quality," "5 star," and "awesome" reviews.

27. In some cases, the defendants take technological measures to avoid detection by Amazon. For example, some defendants claim to use multiple Amazon accounts and unique IP addresses to post their reviews. Others claim to use accounts from different geographical regions.

28. In some instances sellers offer to place a "Verified Review." This refers to the "Amazon Verified Purchase" tag on reviews for which Amazon has verified that the reviewer has purchased the item through Amazon. However, defendants provide these "Verified Reviews" only if the reviewers obtain the product for free, in addition to receiving payment for the "review." In at least one instance, the seller of a "Verified Review" was willing to receive an empty envelope, not the product itself, simply to create a shipping record to document product receipt, and to thereby avoid detection by Amazon.

29. At all times, defendants knew that Amazon’s policies prohibited both paid reviews and fictional reviews, and knew and intended that their business of selling reviews would improperly manipulate the published ranking of products listed for sale on Amazon, with a resulting deception of Amazon’s customers.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Breach of Contract

30. Amazon incorporates by reference the allegations of each and every one of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

31. Each of the defendants is an Amazon customer and has an Amazon account. Each of the defendants has agreed to and is bound by the Conditions of Use of the Amazon site.

32. Amazon's Conditions of Use prohibit the creation of paid reviews.

33. Defendants have violated the Conditions of Use and have breached their agreement with Amazon, as a result of which Amazon has been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

34. Amazon has also suffered irreparable injury and, unless defendants are enjoined from such activity, will continue to suffer irreparable injury, whereby Amazon has no adequate remedy at law.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Consumer Protection Act (R.C.W. Ch. 19.86)

35. Amazon incorporates by reference the allegations of each and every one of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

36. Defendants have engaged in unfair and deceptive acts and practices occurring in trade or commerce in violation of the Washington Consumer Protection Act, R.C.W. Ch. 19.86.

37. Defendants' actions were injurious to the public interest. The acts were committed in the course of defendants' business, and caused the public dissemination of false consumer reviews designed to trick consumers. Defendants' acts had the capacity to, and did indeed, harm consumers.

38. Defendants' unfair and deceptive business practices have unjustly harmed Amazon and are causing Amazon to suffer damages.

39. Amazon is entitled to treble damages and attorneys' fees, pursuant to R.C.W. 19.86.090.

40. As a result of such unfair and deceptive acts and practices, Amazon has also suffered irreparable injury and, unless defendants are enjoined from such unfair competition, will continue to suffer irreparable injury, whereby Amazon has no adequate remedy at law.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Intentional Interference With Contractual Relations

41. Amazon incorporates by reference the allegations of each and every one of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

42. Amazon maintains contracts with each seller of goods or services on Amazon's site, as each such user agreed to the Amazon Conditions of Use.

43. Defendants have knowledge of these contracts and the contractual prohibitions against fake and paid reviews.

44. Defendants intended to disrupt and, with malice and through unfair means, did interfere with the performance of these contracts.

45. As a result of defendants' actions, Amazon has been harmed.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Unjust Enrichment/Restitution

46. Amazon incorporates by reference the allegations of each and every one of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

47. Defendants unjustly received benefits at Amazon's expense through their wrongful conduct, including their breach of contract, interference with Amazon's business relationships and other unfair business practices. Defendants continue to unjustly retain these benefits at Amazon's expense. It would be unjust for defendants to retain any value they obtained as a result of their wrongful conduct.

48. Amazon is entitled to the establishment of a constructive trust consisting of the benefit conferred upon defendants by the revenues derived from their wrongful conduct at Amazon's expense, and all profits derived from that wrongful conduct.

Amazon is further entitled to full restitution of all amounts in which defendants have been unjustly enriched at Amazon's expense.

FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Accounting

49. Amazon incorporates by reference the allegations of each and every one of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

50. Defendants have obtained business through unlawful conduct, as alleged in this Complaint.

51. Defendants have received money as a result of their misconduct, at Amazon's expense, at some or all such money is rightfully due to Amazon. Defendants have also induced contractual breaches by Amazon sellers.

52. The identities of the users of defendants' services, and amount of money due from defendants to Amazon, cannot be ascertained without a full accounting of the

1 defendants' wrongful and unlawful conduct. Amazon is entitled, therefore, to a full
2 accounting and records of defendants' unlawful activities.

3 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

4 WHEREFORE, Amazon respectfully requests judgment as follows:

5 1. That the Court issue permanent and injunctive relief against the defendants 6 and that defendants, their officers, agents, employees, representatives, successors and 7 assigns, and all others in active concert or participation with defendants be enjoined and 8 ordered to:

9 (a) Cease and desist from offering the sale of Amazon reviews;

10 (b) Provide information sufficient to identify each Amazon review
11 created in exchange for payment, and the accounts and persons who paid for such 12 reviews; and

13 (c) Assisting, aiding or abetting any other person or business entity in 14 engaging or performing any of the activities referred to in subparagraph (a) above.

15 2. That the Court enter an Order declaring that defendants hold in trust, as 16 constructive trustees for the benefit of Amazon, their illegal profits gained from the sale of 17 fake reviews, and requiring defendants to provide Amazon with a full and complete
18 accounting of all amounts obtained as a result of defendants' illegal activities;

19 3. That the Court enter an Order instructing defendants, jointly and severally,
20 to pay Amazon's general, special, actual and statutory damages, including treble damages
21 pursuant to R.C.W. Ch. 19.86;

22 4. That the Court Order defendants to pay Amazon both the cost of this action 23 and attorneys' fees incurred in prosecuting this action; and 24 5. That the Court grant Amazon such additional and further relief as is just 25 and proper.
